

What

By the Mercury's

Knowing your CCTV: Josh Reid and his new free e-book explaining CCTV security systems. Picture: KIRK GILMOUR

Josh's new book explains the ins and outs of CCTV

JOSH Reid contacted me this week to say he had just published his first book.

But it is not a novel.

In this day and age of heightened security it is a free e-book on CCTV security systems.

Josh runs the security business IC Security and wrote the book when he realised how many people had the same questions when they started thinking about installing CCTV for the home or business.

How To Choose A CCTV Security System can be downloaded free at www.icsecurity.com.au or is available on CD on 1800 998 226.

"It is a very easy read, and comes packed with over 50 pages of essential information you need to know before you buy a CCTV Security System," he said.

Josh has worked in the security industry for many years but did not make the decision to write a book until after he completed a book-writing course with Robyn Hendersen.

He had been working on two motivational books when he realised this was something practical that would help answer a lot of questions for people because they contacted a security system supplier.

After doing the course with Robyn, he realised he would be able to produce something easy to read.

It deliberately avoids all the technical jargon.

"The book will help the end user to tell the difference between quality and cheaper equipment," Josh said.

"Most people don't really know what they are buying - this book helps them make an educated decision."